Matching Gift Challenge Will Save Lives

The horses pictured below are three lives changed because of your support for HPAF. Sassy, an Arabian mare, came from an investigation with Columbia County Sheriff's Office; she was barely surviving in a sand lot. Howie, a former race horse, was dumped on a rural road in Chiefland, Florida, last December. In his emaciated condition he would never have survived the freezing temperatures we experienced in the following weeks. Merlin, a former cow pony, had been given to a young family who did not know how to care for him. Merlin appeared to be close to death when we first saw him in May. Who knew that he would put on weight so fast or that he was such an easy keeper. A few months later he needed to be on a restricted diet.

Together we have made a difference in the lives of innocent horses who were suffering; giving them a new lease on life. Inside meet adopters with their new family member, a happy ending and new beginning for the rescued horses. Unfortunately, horses continue to need help due to overbreeding which has created more horses than there are good homes. Previously rescued horses need ongoing care and training and with winter upon us, extra hay will need to be purchased, almost doubling feed costs. Our dear friend who has been making matching gift challenges twice a year for over four years has made her final matching gift challenge and will match all donations up to $8,000 until December 31st, 2014.

Please give so that these beautiful horses may live.

As you may have noticed, this is the only newsletter for 2014. Finances have not allowed us to do newsletters before now.

Thanks to Don Manuchia, National Parcel Logistics, and NPL Dedicated LLC for sponsoring all aspects of producing, preparing and mailing for this newsletter. Don cares deeply about horses and has been a longtime supporter of HPAF. We cannot thank Don enough for making this newsletter possible and for all of his donations for the horses over the years.

Everyone's donation is important! We wish that there was room to list everyone who has donated over the past year. Blessings to everyone who has helped the horses; you are greatly appreciated. We could not save any of the horses without you!

Volunteers Needed!

Volunteers are needed at the farm for feeding, grooming, cleaning, and 101 other things. Volunteers are an essential part of the daily operations at HPAF.

HPAF is also in need of a person to cover the process of selling items on eBay for HPAF. We have numerous donated items to sell and can provide the photos.

We also need items for our silent auction, volunteers, and sponsors for our Open House on January 23rd, 2015.

A Special Thank You!

Thank you to Dr. Gerald Wessner of the Holistic Veterinary Clinic in Summerfield for the donation of homeopathic medicines for the horses. We were so fortunate to meet Dr. Wessner in 1999 after reading an article he wrote. He came to Miami regularly to treat the horses before HPAF moved to Micanopy. In 1999 he donated his time to access horses from the Hoof and Halter case. He has helped countless horses and we are so grateful to him for all of the knowledge he has shared with us over the past fifteen years.

Pat and Lola

Pat Davis is fostering and providing training for the Paso Fino fillies Abbey and Lola. Pat is an amazing trainer and has Abbey and Lola doing all kinds of new things. They are being ridden after a month of twice daily ground work. They are doing great and are well along in their under saddle training with Pat. Pat is also the computer whiz HPAF has needed for a long time. She has helped create PowerPoint presentations, helped with a database and put this newsletter together. We are so grateful to Pat for all of the hard work and time she has given to help the horses.

Thank you to all of the terrific people who stepped up to foster horses when the HPAF farm became flooded in August.

- Thank you Steve and Joan Ehrhart for fostering Hope, Zania, Sunshine, Velvet and Cupido at their lovely Red Door Farm.
- Thank you Karen Curran of Alachua for fostering Sky and Little Joe.
- Thank you Derrick and Marlene Evans and barn manager Megan for fostering Bruno.
- Thank you Natalie and Richard Acker of Crown Thoroughbreds for fostering Moo Moo, Polo and Shirl.

We Also Want To Thank...

Thank you once again to the wonderful members of the Arredondo Dressage Society for putting on the 5th Annual Horses Helping Horses Benefit Clinic & Tack Sale for HPAF. The club raised over $4000 for the horses. This caring group of horse lovers has gone above and beyond for five years to raise money for the care of the rescued horses and we could not be more grateful for their efforts and caring.

ASPCA Help a Horse Day

Thanks to Amy Glick for bringing together a very successful 1st annual ASPCA Help A Horse Day on April 26th. Held at Amy's farm Zamira Arabians, it was also a celebration of Prince Edward's 30th birthday. Thank you to everyone who donated and gave their time to make it a successful fundraiser for HPAF. Special thanks to Sean Maher and John Rannenber who provided the food and drinks.

Thank you to KC and Robin LaPierre of the Institute of Applied Equine Podiatry for their countless donations of Silvetrasol, Perfect Hoofware and podiatry services. The PHW has helped so many horses who were sore from the wet ground and we love Silvetrasol and use it on wounds and hooves every day.

Thank you to Tack Shack of Ocala who allowed HPAF to have horses and set up donation tables at their Famous Horsey Yard Sales. The horses were a big hit and helped introduce new friends to HPAF. Thank you Tack Shack!

Thank you to board member Dr. Shauna Cantwell of Medicine Wheel Veterinary Services for donating treatments and care to the horses, dogs and cats at HPAF. We are so grateful for her expertise and compassion.

Thanks once again to Dr. Marilyn Maler DVM, Diplomate ACVSMR of SunSpirit Farm Veterinary Services for donating Coggins tests for the horses. Coggins test must be renewed every year for each horse making it a big recurring expense. Dr. Maler has donated hundreds of Coggins tests over the years as well as chiropractic and acupuncture treatments for the horses. She has been a driving force in addressing equine cruelty and has donated her time and expertise working countless cruelty cases and testifying in court.

Thank you to Dr. John Langlois DVM, CTCVM, CSMT for his donations for the horses and for testifying in court on cruelty cases.

Thanks to Dr. Bess Darrow DVM of Tune Ups Equine Dental practice for her donations for the horses.

Deepest thanks to Dr. Lynn Peck DVM, MS of All Holistic Veterinary Care who has donated her veterinary services for the horses over the years. Dr. Peck has also served as the HPAF board president for the past two years. We are so grateful to Dr. Peck for her countless donations and for helping to heal so many of the animals; horses, dogs and cats. We have been blessed to have her giving of her time and talent to the animals and we appreciate everything she has done so very much.

Fencing Project

Thank you to Kirk Landon for donating the funds for the re-fencing projects on the farm. Mr Landon is a longtime supporter of HPAF and also donated the wonderful Polaris Utility Vehicle which we could not do without! It is the only way to traverse the property when it is wet and is used for feeding the horses twice a day. Thank you Mr. Landon for your support of HPAF over the years.

Lex and Adopter Kim Pundai

2013-2014 ACTHA
National Champion
Pleasure Division

The Story of Lex - Background

Lex came to HPAF with 19 Thoroughbreds from a Marion County seizure in 2007. A completely untouched 3 year old stallion, Lex was a particularly difficult horse. Never contained in a stall before, he immediately jumped out. He ran and paced nonstop, frantic over being contained and separated from his herd mates by a wall. Turned out with electric fencing and only male horses on the property, Lex was containable. He was gelded and eventually moved to HPAF. Once again he became frantic being on the same property with the mares he had lived with all of his life. He ran straight through fences to get to his mares. Lex was sent to trainer Halsey Murch for a month which did help Lex focus, but one day Lex kicked at Halsey missing his head by inches. He was still a very tough horse.

Later, Lex was sent to Parelli trainer Anja Holst and started under saddle. The Parelli training really made a difference in Lex and this is where Kim met Lex and adopted him.

Lex - After Adoption by Kim Pundai

I adopted Lex in 2009 when he was 5 years old. He was very sweet and eager to please, but I quickly realized how reactive, spooky and unconfident he was. I was determined to develop a partnership with Lex and take him trail riding all over the state.

The first year I had Lex, I thought I got the wrong horse for me, but I wasn't giving up on him. We worked on some basic ground work for the first couple of months and started to ride him in a confined area. It took 1-2 hours on the ground before he was calm and I felt confident to ride; sometimes I didn't. I thought there would never be a day I could just saddle up and ride. But that day did eventually come!

I chose the Parelli program to follow. I admit he was quite a challenge and beyond my skill level, but we were slowly making progress. After training on my own and getting stuck, I acquired the help of a local Parelli instructor, Sandra Vann. The first issue addressed was that we had a relationship problem as she witnessed Lex hiding behind a tree when he saw me coming! Also, he couldn't canter well. I got Lex a much needed adjustment and found a saddle that fit him.

We continued to practice with Sandra and one day she asked us to go with her to do a Parelli demo at a covered arena. Lex had only traveled a couple of times prior, thanks to Sandra helping us tackle the task of trailer loading. We walked into the arena for the demo and Lex thought he was the BBQ for the party! But we played with toys and tasks, and to my surprise, he got connected with me quickly. Sandra knew Lex would initially react the way he did, but the purpose was to show how to help the horse work through it. I was proud of him.

Over the next couple of years, we got to travel occasionally with Sandra, doing obstacle play days or competitions. We also did a couple of lessons with Emily Thompson. Lex was getting better at traveling, not bolting out of the trailer when door opens. It was a great day the first time we arrived somewhere and he immediately starting to graze, not worried about his environment. But other farm animals were something else. The first time we encountered cattle, minis, donkeys, and pigs, etc., I could barely walk him near them. All it took to overcome those fears was exposure and showing him how he can feel safe and be calm. We can now walk amongst cattle in an open field!

These last 2 years have truly been the best. I acquired my own trailer and started traveling and camping all over Florida. In 2012 we started competing with the American Competitive Trail Horse Association (ACTHA), 6 miles of trail with 6 obstacles/tasks. It was then that I met Nancy Slater, Parelli instructor. We both got hooked on the fun competition and I got to ride with her often. She always would offer her help to me and Lex. When we met, I wasn't that confident cantering on Lex because his brakes didn't work well, unless I was confined or doing circles. Well, she taught me how to communicate with him better; to go from canter-stop-back up, without touching my reins! Now cantering long distance across open fields is fun!

Lex and I started to do well in the competitions, taking first places. Half way through the 2013-2014 ACTHA season, I realized we had a chance at winning state or nationals. I decided at that point to give it my best shot for the next 6 months. Entering the last ride of the competition, we were tied for first place in the state and 2nd in the nation, the pressure was on and I was nervous. That weekend turned out to be our most perfect ride we ever had, with other riders commenting on the epitome of partnership we had. We ended the ACTHA June 2014 season winning the National Championship in the Pleasure division. What a journey that was, watching my once emotionally crippled horse become a trail champion.

Lex has taught me how to be a better leader and rider, and in return has given me partnership beyond what I ever expected to achieve, even being able to ride him bridless. We will always face new challenges, but I am better equipped to help him through it.

Thanks HPFAF for not giving up on him and to the wonderful mentors in my life!

I hope I conveyed the message of not giving up, that was my main point. And the reward I got in return was so worth it. Had I known then what I know now about horsemanship! I should have mentioned that once I figured out how to get Lex confident in learning is when we made real progress. In the beginning, I put too much pressure on him, which is why he would hide when he saw me!! Undemanding time was the answer, and more waiting/consistency....take the time it takes so it takes less time next time, (Pat Parelli saying)! Lex was the right horse for me....because I was seeking that relationship I saw at Parelli Tours, and Lex pushed me to be better and figure it out!

An Extra Big Thank You!

Thank you to Island Jacks Patio Bar and Grill in West Palm Beach and volunteer Michelle Jones for making HPAF the beneficiary of their summer charity bingo series. What a wonderful surprise to be contacted by this community minded business after our friend Heather Stalker told Island Jacks and Michele about HPAF. Island Jack's patrons raised over $1800 for the horses! Thank you!

Thank you to all of the great volunteers who have made it possible for HPAF to participate in the Tack Shack Horse Yard Sales. Beth Ramsay, Cheri Phillips, Sue Tobin and Amy Glick. Thank you, ladies; you are the best!

Thank you to Cliff of B & S Trailers for his excellent repair work on the HPAF horse trailers and for donating the spectacular cleaning job on the aluminum trailer!

A special thanks to the two ladies who keep HPAF running smoothly. Sharon Byrne, farm manager and Julie Osborne, office manager. Each of these ladies go above and beyond, doing whatever is necessary to provide for the horses. Each horse at the farm is groomed everyday, receiving the individual attention that they love and need. They provide the training the horses need to learn good manners, and they deal with any injuries that come up. They help volunteers learn to how to halter, lead, turnout and groom the horses. They make repairs on the farm, build fences, come in on their days off to help, and are constantly giving of their time and many talents to make sure everything that needs to be done is done. Both Julie and Sharon have the energy and productivity of three people and the farm could not operate without them. There are not thanks enough to properly convey how much they are appreciated.

HPAF Pastures Flooded

It has been a trying summer; the HPAF farm was flooded July through October. A plea for foster homes was printed in the Ocala Star Banner with many old and new friends stepping up to help. 30 horses were fostered out mid-August through September helping to greatly reduce expenses as well. Some of the horses still at the farm suffered from painful abscesses, sore feet and cracked heels. The horses had to stay locked into the only dry area behind the garage to keep them out of the water.

The horses don't know that walking and grazing in the water causes them pain later, so they would happily stay in the wet if they were not contained. The mosquitos were also especially bad this year, making it miserable for the horses, especially the ones who suffer from sweet itch, an allergy to bug bites.
